Mainstream media narratives of Middle East conflicts are often false or incomplete. Even as the U.S. “withdraws” from Afghanistan, things are escalating again in Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, and Iran. Our presenter Oliver Boyd-Barrett will discuss how our military and covert presence in the region continues to seriously damage both the region and the long-term interests of the United States.

Professor Oliver Boyd-Barrett is an expert on communications, media, and U.S. foreign policy and how taxpayers, Congress, and world leaders are manipulated into supporting endless wars and occupations around the world. Professor Boyd-Barrett has written or edited some 25 books and 150 scholarly articles.
